PRELIMINARY TITLE - GENERAL DISPOSITION

Article 1. These updated Rules and Regulations endeavor to establish the procedures that govern the organization, operation and smooth running of Conformation Competitions for Purebred Spanish Stallions and Mares (hereinafter PRE Conformation-Functional Competitions or simply Competitions), to establish competition categories and other matters regarding competitions, including but not limited to rights, obligations and responsibilities of both the Organizing Committee and participants.

These Rules and Regulations are reviewed annually by the Conformation-Functional Competition Commission and approved by the Executive Committee.

Article 2. These current Rules & Regulations shall be applied at all PRE Conformation-Functional Competitions, and therefore, must be fully complied with by all those who intervene in competitions, whether organizers, participants or judges, as well as the competent supervisory authority.

Notwithstanding the above, the World PRE Championship Final shall also apply the specific rules that shall be published annually, as would be the case, and prior to the conclusion of the entry deadline for said Final.

TITLE I - CONFORMATION-FUNCTIONAL COMPETITION COMMISSION

Article 3. The Conformation-Functional Commission is responsible for the strict compliance and observation of Competition Rules & Regulations and to resolve any questions regarding the interpretation that might arise when applying said rules, as well as any and all conflicts affecting those who intervene in the competition.

The Competition Commission may include a President, designated by the Executive Committee, who in turn, shall propose the other components considered appropriate at any given point in time, with these being appointed by the Executive Committee and ratified by the Board of Directors. Those who are appointed as members of the Competition Commission shall not be involved in the organization of Conformation Competitions, nor shall he/she take part of the Organizing Committee of said events, with the exception of SICAB.

The Competition Commission shall respond to any and all questions concerning them, and shall consider these within the scope of the responsibilities granted by these current Competition Rules & Regulations

Said Commission shall meet from time to time, as summoned by the President in agreement with the Executive Committee, as deemed appropriate. Likewise, said Committee shall adopt agreements based on simple majority, with the President's vote being the casting vote. Minutes shall be taken of all meetings.

In the absence of a Conformation-Functional Competition Commission, the Executive Committee shall adopt all functions assigned to that body, as indicated in these Rules & Regulations.

TITLE II - CONFORMATION-FUNCTIONAL COMPETITIONS

Article 4. PRE Conformation-Functional Competitions are all those competitions open to stud farms and horses registered in the Purebred Spanish Horse Stud Book, and that appear on the official PRE Competition Calendar, which is published annually by ANCCE in compliance with the established requirements and that are judged in keeping with these current Competition Rules & Regulations.

Should the Competition Commission have any knowledge of discrimination towards stud farms and/or horses prior to the celebration of a competition, the Organizing Committee shall take immediate measures to remedy the situation or based on the seriousness, said event shall automatically be removed from the Official PRE Competition

Calendar. Should the Commission hear about discriminatory attitudes once the event has concluded, the qualifications and classifications of the horses shall be respected, to benefit the participating breeders, but said event may lead to it being excluded from the Official PRE Competition Calendar the following year.

Article 5. The main goals sought by PRE Conformation-Functional Competitions include:

- a) Contributing to the promotion, preservation, expansion and prestige of breeding Purebred Spanish Horses, both in Spain and abroad.
- b) Facilitating breeders with the possibility of improving their selection of horses.
- c) Boosting the acquisition of breeding stock to promote the excellence of Purebred Spanish Horses.
- d) Ensuring the well-being and adequate treatment of all horses housed at competition facilities.
- e) Promoting the sales of Purebred Spanish Horses.

Article 6. Individual people or organizations wishing to enter a competition on the Official PRE Competition Calendar each season shall present the corresponding request form, filled out in full, before the 15th of January of the current year. The official form appears in APPENDIX I of these current Rules and Regulations.

Requests to hold competitions outside Spain shall be sent in with the backing of an ANCCE recognized association in the country where the event is to be held, if said organization exists.

To register a competition on the Official PRE Competition Calendar, said organization must have no debts pending with ANCCE and/or judges due to events held at any previous edition/s.

Said requests presented by individuals or organizations other than the owners of the facilities where the competitions is to be held shall attach a written authorization granting permission to use the facilities for that purpose.

Article 7. The Executive Committee, at the proposal of the Competition Commission, shall approve the Official PRE Competition Calendar, which shall be published at the beginning of each year, indicating the corresponding categories.

Any variations that may arise on the Official PRE Competition Calendar shall be published in advance.

Article 8. All PRE Conformation-Functional Competitions shall have at least the following:

a) Infrastructures:

- Competition arena.
- Adequate covered accommodations and stabling that are safe and suitable for the well-being of the horses.
- A sufficient number of showers for the number of horses entered.
- A public address system.
- Electricity (lighting).

b) Services:

- Ambulance.
- Liability insurance.
- Bedding for the comfort of all horses.
- Official veterinarian service at the Competition.
- Farrier service.

The Organizing Committees shall be responsible for obtaining the corresponding permits, authorizations, certificates and licenses that local, regional and national laws may demand for such events.

Article 9. All PRE Conformation-Functional Competitions, whether held in Spain or abroad, shall be granted a category:

- 3-star Competitions
- 2-star Competitions
- 1-star Competitions
- World Final Championship (SICAB)

The Competition Commission shall present the Executive Committee with the annual categories for all competitions registered for their approval. Said approval shall be granted attending the requirements listed in Article 10 below.

Should an Organizing Committee wish to grant a given competition the name of Regional, National or any other similar reference, said Committee shall present a written authorization from the Competition Commission.

Article 10. The criteria considered for the competition categories held both in Spain and abroad are, in essence, the following:

- 3-Star Competitions:

- Seniority: the number of previous editions held shall be taken into consideration.
- Incidences and breach of rules: not have any incidences in previous seasons.
- Number of horses entered in the previous edition: at least 70 horses.
- Participation in all sections: have horses participating in all sections at previous editions.

- 2-Star Competitions:

- Incidences and breach of rules: not have any incidences in previous seasons.
- Number of horses entered in the previous edition: at least 50 horses.

Competitions that fail to comply with the aforementioned requirements shall be considered 1-Star Competitions. Newly created competitions that are being held for the very first time will be considered 1-star Completions. The organizers may request the category as 2-star events based on the project presented, with the Competition Commission requiring a full report for further assessment.

Exceptionally, the historic and relevant specifics of competitions held in Spain may be taken into consideration and the same holds true for those held abroad, when the Competition Commission deems this appropriate.

Article 11. Depending on the category, competitions shall comply with the obligations indicated below:

- 3-Star Competitions:

- Have a competition arena measuring at least 60 x 20 m (196.8x65.6 ft.) and a warm-up arena.
- Hold at least one of the following tests associated with the conformation competition: PSCJ (Young Horse Selection Test), Spanish High School, Doma Vaquera, Carriage Driving, Working Equitation, Show Jumping, and Eventing. For those events held abroad, holding the associated tests shall be optional.

- Have stalls and showers for both stallions and mares with sufficient distance between these.
 - Have the capacity to house at least 130 horses.
 - Take official photos and videos as well as the live broadcast of the competition events, in keeping with the indications of the Competition Department Committee each season.
 - Hold all of the sections, and with participation in each one, except Sections 13 and 14 for Cobras, which shall be optional. The sections for yearlings and geldings (Sections 1, 2 and 15) shall not be held.
 - Have hotel infrastructure and necessary facilities near-by.
 - Provide ANCCE with the preliminary Competition Program before the entry deadline so that it may be published on the web site.

- 2-Star Competitions:

- Have a competition arena measuring at least 60 x 20 m (196.8 x 65.6 ft.) and a warm-up arena.
- Have the capacity to house at least 70 horses.
- Take official photographs and videos.
- Hold all of the sections, except Sections 13 and 14, which shall be optional. The sections for yearlings and geldings (Sections 1, 2 and 15) shall not be held.
- Have hotel infrastructure and necessary facilities near-by.
- Provide ANCCE with the preliminary Competition Program before the entry deadline so that it may be published on the web site.

- 1-Star Competitions:

- Have a competition arena.
- Have the capacity to house at least 30 horses.
- Take official photographs and videos.
- Provide ANCCE with the preliminary Competition Program before the entry deadline so that it may be published on the web site.

Should the Competition Commission have any knowledge of breach of obligations prior to the celebration of a competition, it shall encourage the Organizing Committee to remedy said problem immediately, or, based on the seriousness of the matter or hindrance for the normal running of the competition, said competition shall be automatically excluded from the Official PRE Competition Calendar. Should the Commission have knowledge regarding an incident once the event has concluded, the qualifications and classifications of the horses shall be respected; however, said incident shall be taken into consideration for its category the following season.

Article 12. The World PRE Championship Final shall be held to coincide with the International PRE Trade Fair (SICAB) in Sevilla. Only those horses that have qualified in advance are eligible to participate in this Final; only scores earned at PRE Conformation-Functional Competitions shall be taken into consideration.

Each year, the Competition Commission shall propose, before the Executive Committee for approval and ratification by the Board of Directors, the specific structural rules for said Final, which shall be at least similar to what is demanded for all other PRE Conformation-Functional Competitions.

Article 13. In general, ANCCE is committed to recognizing, announcing and promoting all those competitions included on the Official PRE Competition Calendar.

Based on its free will and criteria, ANCCE shall collaborate with 3-Star Competitions held in Spain by providing them with support and economic aid based on the annual budget approved by the Executive Committee, once the corresponding agreement is signed between the parties. Failure to comply with said agreement on behalf of the Organization Committee shall result in that competition being downgraded to a lesser category at a future edition. To receive said economic aid, the Organizing Committee shall be in good standing with all payments to the Judges appointed to that specific competition (Article 20 C) and comply with all aspects of the agreement signed with ANCCE.

Article 14. PRE Conformation-Functional Competitions shall include the ANCCE logo on all publicity for the competition so that third parties are aware that said event has been included on the Official PRE Competition Calendar.

TITLE III - ENTRIES & CANCELLATIONS

Article 15. Breeders may only enter horses into a competition if and when said horses are owned by them, with their breeder code, independently of who the initial breeder may be.

Horses included in the PRE ANCCE Studbook Register as non-reproductive horses shall not be allowed entry to Conformation-Functional competitions.

The entry of a single horse at two or more conformation competitions shall not be allowed when the dates of said competitions coincide in time.

Changes in the ownership of a horse that has been entered into a competition shall be accepted until said horse has set foot on the competition grounds, thus that horse may compete under the proprietorship of the new owner. Any changes made after the competition has begun shall not be taken into account, under any circumstance, for the competition results.

A horse that has competed and changed ownership to later compete in an event under the name of a new owner shall not compete under the name of the previous owner/s who may have recuperated said horse, for a period of thirteen (13) months as of the last competition where said horse participated.

A horse that officially enters two (2) 3-star or 2-star Competitions in a single season once the judges have been announced bib numbers, and that fails to appear at the reception gate of said competitions shall not be accepted for the World Championship Final, even if it qualified to participate. Should the case arise, ANCCE shall proceed to delete those horses that fail to appear on the competition website, to show only the definitive participants. The ANCCE Competition Department shall create a register that safeguards the effectiveness of this rule. Likewise, the exceptional cases may be evaluated by the Competition Commission, with the endorsement of an ANCCE veterinarian and the ratification of the Executive Committee.

Article 16. A breeder may enter as many horses as he/she so desires to a qualifier competition; however, should that breeder wish to compete for the Best Breeder or Best Exhibitor Awards, he/she shall clearly indicate it on the entry form.

A breeder competing for the Best Breeder Award shall not seek the Best Exhibitor Award at the same time.

Article 17. The entry of horses shall be carried out by filling out and sending in the corresponding Entry Form, using the official form found in APPENDIX II of these current Rules and Regulations.

The Entry Forms to participate in 3-star and 2-star Competitions held in Spain shall be presented before ANCCE online, going to "Access for Breeders" on the PRE Stud Book website. In these categories, the deadline for entries is two Tuesdays (deadline at noon) prior to the established date for the reception of horses at that Competition. Once the entry process has concluded, a 24-hour grace shall be granted for participants to pay the Organizing Committee the corresponding entry fee. At 12 noon on the following Wednesday, payments of all entries shall be verified. Any entry that fails to pay the corresponding fee shall be eliminated from the IT system, thus leading to the irrevocable loss of the right to participate. After this, ANCCE shall proceed to select the Judges and randomly assign the horses their bib numbers.

In the case of 3-star and 2-star Competitions held abroad, the Organizing Committee shall be responsible for handling entry forms and their reception, recommending that all entries be presented before ANCCE online under the section “Access for Breeders” on the PRE Stud Book website.

The deadline for entries at 3-star and 2-star competitions held abroad shall conclude the Tuesday prior to the week that said competition begins.

The deadline for entries at 1-star Competitions shall conclude 1 (one) day prior to the reception of the horses of said competition.

Article 18. Should an Organizing Committee cancel a competition, for other reasons than force majeure, all participants shall be reimbursed for the amounts paid for the entry of their horses, and compensate, as would be the case, those already present at the venue or in transit for the expenses incurred, notwithstanding other possible disciplinary responsibilities.

Article 19. Those breeders who have formalized the entry of their horses in a competition shall have no right to claim reimbursement of the quantities paid once the deadline has concluded.

TITLE IV - THE FUNCTIONAL STRUCTURE OF THE COMPETITIONS

Article 20. The Organizing Committee of PRE Conformation-Functional Competitions is responsible for the executive management, handling and administration of said event. At all times, said Organizing Committee shall ensure the welfare of all horses housed at competition facilities and the adequate and respectful behavior of the staff.

Organizing Committee obligations include:

- a) Draft the preliminary Competition Program including at least the following information:
 - Date and location where the competition is held, as well as the dates for the reception and departure of horses.
 - Entry deadline.
 - Entry fee, as would be the case.
 - Health, sanitation and administrative certificates as required by the corresponding Authorities.
 - Awards and trophies.
 - Composition of the Organizing Committee.

The preliminary Competition Program shall be made available to all participating breeders at the competition secretariat throughout the event.

- b) Verify the ownership of the horses registered with the PRE Stud Book. Should there be any doubt, notify the Competition Department so that staff may consult with the Stud Book; the response provided by the PRE Stud Book is binding and final.
- c) Approve, together with the appointed judges, their fees and pay said fees within no more than fifteen (15) days after the competition has concluded. Likewise, all competition staff contracted for a competition shall be paid on time and as agreed to.

To receive payment, it is the sole responsibility of all Judges to be legally registered to issue invoices. Section C of this Article is not applicable in the case of breach of payment attributable to the Judge.

- d) Suspend the competition due to force majeure. Should the suspension take place prior to the commencement of the competition, the Organizing Committee is responsible for notifying breeders, Judges, and any other individual/s or organization/s participating in the event. Likewise, ANCCE shall publish the suspension notification on its website for greater coverage.
- e) Designate the Admission Jury, the Superior Appeals Panel, as well as contract the team of veterinarians and the necessary staff to carry out administrative and IT tasks.
- f) Verify and be aware of any and all disciplinary actions that may be imposed upon judges, breeders and/or horses so that these do not participate in the competition.
- g) Send the computerized competition results to the ANCCE Competition Department using the established format, within no more than 24 hours after the conclusion of the competition.
- h) Organize and perform all those aspects and processes that are linked to the celebration of a competition.

The Competition Commission may appoint an ANCCE Delegate who will draft a technical report reflecting the level of compliance that corresponds with the competition category, including the incidences or breaches in rules. This report shall determine the category assigned to any future competitions.

Article 21. The Organizing Committee includes the following members:

- a) President: shall be the maximum authority at the competition.
- b) Technical Director: this person is responsible for the correct compliance of these current Rules and Regulations. The Chief Steward and other organization staff respond to this person, who is also the liaison with the judges. His/Her specific responsibilities include:
 - Verify that the facilities, arenas and equipment meet the specified conditions at all times for the smooth running of the Competition.
 - Provide the judges with the material that is necessary for them to judge.
 - Provide participants with the final results for each section and turn these over to the President of the Organizing Committee.
 - Issue a report stating the characteristics of all facilities and equipment, as well as details regarding competition developments, including any irregularities and incidents that may have arisen. Said report shall be forwarded to the Competition Commission within five (5) business days following the conclusion of the competition.
 - Draft the competition minutes using the official format, collect the signature of the judges and send a copy, together with the Judges' original score sheets to the Competition Department within five (5) business days following the conclusion of the competition.
 - Guarantee the correct identification of all horses to be judged, as well as ensuring that their presentation fully complies with the provisions set out in these Rules and Regulations.
 - Make sure that presenters, grooms and farm managers follow the indications of the judges when it comes to placement (in the arena), presentation at halt and while moving, as well as other questions in this regard.

- Draft a schedule with the starting times for each section and verify compliance. Should there be changes due to the actual developments of the competition, inform all participants and the audience.
 - Address complaints and suggestions from breeders regarding the judging and be present at the meeting with them and the judges, which will be held once the last section of the Conformation Competition has concluded.
 - Send the ANCCE Competition Department a written report regarding the suspension of the competition, and indicate the reasons behind said suspension.
 - Verify and limit access to the Technical Secretariat work area for authorized personnel only.
- c) Chief Steward: This person shall be in charge of verifying the identity of all horses, checking their numbers and names, ordering their entry to and exit from the arena while maintaining communication with the stud farm managers so that the competition runs smoothly. At those competitions, which due to size have no Chief Steward, this task shall be performed by the Technical Director. Likewise, this person, with the support of the team of veterinarians, shall verify that all horses when entering the arena show no signs of artificial manipulation of its phenotype. The Chief Steward must be present in the arena at all times to be available to the Judge as needed.
- d) Members-at-large: These may be as many as the competition Organizing Committee deems appropriate, one of whom shall always be the Competition Veterinarian.

Decisions reached by the Organizing Committee and/or any of its members may be appealed before the Superior Appeals Panel.

Article 22. The Admissions Panel shall include the Technical Director, a member of the Organizing Committee and the Chief Competition Veterinarian. This Panel shall be operational once the first entry form is received.

The Admissions Panel shall be in charge of and responsible for the admission of all horses, and their reception upon arrival at the competition. As such, said Panel shall:

- Verify, once the official team of veterinarians has examined the horse, its state of health and its phenotypic integrity.
- Confirm that all horses arrive with the appropriate documentation and that said documentation is true and valid.
- Identify horses by reading their microchip and/or verifying the description that appears on the initial entry form, Passport or Equine Identification Documents (EID).
- Verify that all horses are correctly entered.
- Coordinate the distribution of horses in their stables.

Upon verification that a horse meets all of the requirements to participate in the competition, it shall be considered officially entered and it shall be welcomed and authorized to enter the grounds.

Decisions by the Admissions Panel may be appealed before the Superior Appeals Panel.

Article 23. The Superior Appeals Panel shall include the President of the Organizing Committee, or the person appointed by them, and two (2) other members chosen by the President who may not be breeders, riders, presenters, grooms nor staff or relative of a participant. One of the members shall be designated the Secretary.

This Panel is considered the competition's maximum authority to solve as many incidences as may arise regarding the application of the Competition Rules & Regulations, except regarding the actual judging of horses, in which case the maximum authority shall be held by the Competition Judges.

The Panel shall solve any claims presented in writing by breeders entered in the competition or in the case of a stud farm, its official representative. All claims to be considered shall be presented within one (1) hour after that section concludes or when the decision was made and/or when said results are published by the Organizing Committee. After that time, no incidents shall be taken into consideration.

All decisions shall be settled and answered within a maximum period of forty-eight (48) hours, following the presentation of a claim. All decisions shall be public and irrevocable.

The Competition Commission may request to be informed about any possible incidence that may have arisen throughout the course of the competition.

Article 24. The Organizing Committee shall have a team of veterinarians, with at least one veterinarian and assisted by a farrier.

Said team shall be at the competition venue every day throughout the judging process, when the competition begins until the last section concludes, as well as during the entry and departure of all horses. The Organizing Committee shall provide the team with sufficient means to effectively perform their duties.

Tasks include:

- Aiding a horse that is ill, or suffers an accident at the competition facilities, at the request of the owner.
- Performing and guaranteeing the correct verification of the identity of all horses.
- Attending, at the request of the Judges, a horse in the arena; the veterinarian's report is non-binding.
- Safeguarding, throughout the Competition, that all of the necessary conditions for their well-being of the horses are met. Should there be any type of non-compliance with the current Rules and Regulations in this regard, corrective measures shall be taken immediately and the Competition Technical Director shall be informed, who in turn shall inform the Organizing Committee so that the measures may be confirmed or proceed to take other measures.
- Ordering, ex officio, or at the request of the breeder, the Chief Steward or the Judges regarding the aptitude of a horse to enter the arena. Should the report be negative, a Veterinarian certificate shall be issued which shall serve the breeder as a justification for not presenting the horse in the arena or to leave the grounds.
- Collaborating in or facilitating the collection of samples for the verification of doping.

All costs for medication, those derived from farrier services and services provided to individuals shall be paid for by the breeder requesting said service.

Article 25. Administrative and IT staff shall have the following responsibilities:

- Handle all entries.
- Place the list in a visible location, open to the public and once all horses have entered, that indicates the sections and stud farms seeking the Best Breeder and Best Exhibitor awards. All horses entered and registered by the breeder seeking the aforementioned awards must appear on the list.
- Receive the score sheets from the judges and process all scores. These scores shall be included on the judges' score sheets.
- Record all results (scores) with the Judge's comparatives, once each section concludes, including the results in the election of Special Awards.

TITLE V - PARTICIPANTS

CHAPTER I – HORSES

Article 26. Participating horses must be in perfect physical condition and shall not have any physical, congenital or acquired anomalies except due to the surgical extirpation of testis due to a pathological situation. This situation shall be justified by means of an Official Veterinarian Certificate, presented when said horse is admitted to the venue.

The Admissions Panel shall reject any horse whose phenotypic integrity has been artificially modified except those with therapeutic shoeing. This shall appear on the Official Veterinarian Certificate that must be presented when the horse is admitted to the venue, including the diagnosis and orthopedic treatment prescribed.

Likewise, horses with a physical defect, whether accidental in nature or those suspicions of disease, may also be rejected. In the event that the horse's injury is caused during transportation to the competition venue, said horse shall be accepted. However, entry to the arena shall be subject to an examination by the competition veterinarian, who must authorize its participation.

Any horse presenting an artificially altered phenotype, such as variations in the natural color of the face, skin, hooves, manes and tail, and shall not be allowed to enter the arena, and be eliminated prior to, or upon concluding its participation, even when it has been classified. However, outlining the horse's brand is allowed. Likewise, the use of horseshoes, silicone and resin insoles that exceed a determined size or thickness that may alter the limb alignment, withers/loin correlation, movements or presentation of said horse without a therapeutic purpose are not permitted. Furthermore, outlining the upper neckline is not allowed.

Only the use of colorless grease and oil on the hooves or other body part is allowed.

The test to verify whether artificial alterations have taken place, as indicated in this article, shall be performed by the Organizing Committee or the official veterinarian of the competition. Said test consists in rubbing a white handkerchief over the area to be inspected. Should the handkerchief be stained, whatever the degree and intensity of the color, that horse shall be eliminated, even if it has already been classified the competition judge. Should that horse have not yet entered the arena to perform the corresponding test, the presenter or groom shall be ordered to quickly clean the affected area; in such case that the presenter/groom fails to comply, said horse shall be eliminated.

Article 27. Upon entry to the venue, all horses shall have the following documents:

- Health and welfare certificates as required by the corresponding health department authorities, including veterinarian and/or pharmaceutical treatment required prior to competition, the diagnostic, medication, dosage and means of administration.
- Required travel and transportation documents.
- Pre-entry certificate, Passport or Equine ID.

Should the Admissions Panel detect deliberate negligence in the documentation of any horse presented, said horse shall not be accepted. If the negligence were detected during or after the competition, said horse may be eliminated by the Superior Appeals Panel or the Competition Commission as might be the case, without further process than a hearing with the owner, together with any points obtained.

Article 28. In the event that a horse has been admitted to the grounds but fails to participate in the competition, said horse shall be considered as not presented. If that horse competes for the awards for the Best Breeder and Best Exhibitor, the points to be added shall be those that correspond to “Not presented”. Said points shall be tallied when determining the average score obtained by the stud farm.

Article 29. Horses that are 5 years of age or older and are entered at a Competition must be Approved as Breeding Stock except for the Final World PRE Championship, in which horses must be Approved as of 4 years of age or older. Should this point not be complied with, the horse shall not be allowed to participate in the Section.

Article 30. The cobras in Sections 13 and 14 shall be formed exclusively by mares at least four years of age and older. The mares participating in cobras shall fulfill the same requirements as if they participated individually in their section.

Should the need arise to change the make-up of a cobra once the entries have concluded and before the reception of said mares, only one (1) of the mares in the cobra may be substituted in the case of section 13, and two (2) in the case of section 14. Should one of the components of the cobra suffer an injury during the competition, this horse may be substituted by another mare that is entered in one of the adult mare sections and that has been on the grounds from the beginning of the event. In any case, all mares making-up a cobra must belong to the same stud farm from the moment said horses are entered.

Article 31. The administration and/or use of substances seeking to mask the physical state of a participating horse are totally prohibited, according to the table of prohibited substances in Appendix VII.

Horses entered at a competition may be subject, during reception, to random anti-doping tests at the request of the Competition Commission by its hired personnel. Testing is mandatory; therefore, no breeder may refuse the extraction of biological samples from their horse/s. Should a breeder refuse testing, the horse/s he/she owns and presents at the competition shall be rejected. This behavior shall be considered severe misconduct, thus leading to disciplinary actions.

CHAPTER II – BREEDERS

Article 32. Any breeder presenting his/her horses at a competition is committed to respecting and complying with the norms laid out in these current Rules and Regulations, and to contributing to the brilliance and dignity of these competitions, presenting their horses under the best possible condition and with the proper level of training and handling.

Article 33. Breeders shall not approach the Judges while judging. Should he/she do so outside the competition arena, judges shall be addressed with respect and consideration and always in the presence of the Technical Director or Chief Steward once the judging of all sections in the competition have concluded.

Article 34. Breeders are responsible for:

- a) Maintaining a correct and respectful attitude toward the organizational staff, other participants and personnel within the limits of the grounds where the event is held. This applies to their relatives, stud farm employees and personnel at their service who shall also maintain a correct and respectful attitude.
- b) Presenting the horse in the corresponding Section with its bib number.
- c) Ensuring that all their horses remain within the competition facilities until their exit is authorized by the Organizing Committee.
- d) Having sufficient personnel throughout the competition for the care and handling of their horses as well as for the appropriate participation and presentation of their horses. Breeders are responsible for their staff, in all aspects, including employer-employee labor commitments.

- e) Complying with all the decisions made by the Judges, the Admission Panel and the Organizing Committee without the prejudice of appealing to the Superior Appeals Panel.
- f) Any questions and doubts that may arise regarding the mechanics of the competition shall be directed to the Technical Director.
- g) Ensuring proper treatment of all horses he/she owns, extensive to their personnel and riders or presenters/grooms.

Article 35. Severe failure to comply with the Rules and Regulations in the articles of this current Chapter, while the competition is being held, the Organization Committee may agree to the automatic elimination of a breeder and/or his/her participating horses, from the competition or from any of the sections, the corresponding loss of points and withdrawal of any awards that might have been won during the competition, as would be the case, independently of other disciplinary actions that may be adopted by the Competition Commission, as foreseen in these current Rules and Regulations.

CHAPTER III - RIDERS AND PRESENTERS

Article 36. When presenting horses in the arena, riders and presenters/grooms shall comply with the following:

a) General terms:

- Be at least sixteen (16) years of age, or, if underage, the Organization Committee shall be presented with a specific authorization in writing from the parents or legal guardian, who shall take full responsibility for any possible damages and/or injuries, relinquishing the Organization Committee of all liability. In all cases, the Organization Committee shall not be held responsible for the actions of riders and presenters who have no legally recognized ties with the owner of the horses he/she is riding or presenting.
- At all times, attend to the indications of the Technical Director and Chief Steward.
- At all times, attend to the indications of the Competition's Technical Director, in his/her role as Chief Steward. Execute the stipulated route for the presentation of movements in hand, without delay or surpassing the established limits.
- Show composure, both within and outside of the arena, while at all times addressing all Judges, those linked to the organization, other breeders and their staff, as well as the general audience attending the event with respect and consideration. Should there be breach of compliance regarding this obligation, that person may be banned from the arena, with his/her access to any other section of the competing also being banned.
- At all times, have horses under control, both within and outside of the arena, in an effort to avoid risks for people and other horses.
- Identify with the corresponding order number for all horses presented.
- Comply with all decisions made by the Judges, the Organization Committee as well as the Superior Appeals Panel.
- Notify the Chief Steward when a horse fails to behave correctly in the arena, or should an abnormality be observed, inform the Judge/s; these, in turn, shall confirm or not the removal of said horse, as would be the case.
- Wear a helmet when riding a horse in the competition facilities. Wearing a helmet is mandatory for anyone riding a horse.

b) Specific terms for Presenters/Grooms:

- Lead horses using a leather in-hand bridle or lined cavesson; the use of any device that alters the horse's natural presentation or that might cause injury or pain is strictly prohibited. Only in the case of the mares in Section 7 and above may a head collar be used, but always leather and of a quality that guarantees the correct handling of the horse in the arena, both during the waiting period and for the actual presentation in the arena. Should this not be the case, indications shall be given to replace said head collar/bridle immediately or the presenter, with the horse, shall be asked to leave the arena, to therefore be considered eliminated.
- Use traditional Andalusian, country attire (known as traje corto campero), hunting or dressage attire and wear the corresponding hat. Likewise, regional apparel may be worn, if and when the Organizing Committee authorizes said attire and that it is adequate for presentation. Logos, commercial brands or stud farm symbols may not be used in an effort to avoid differentiation of participants. No person is allowed into the arena who fails to meet and comply with all competition Rules and Regulations, even if it is to perform the presentation route or to help lead a horse.
- Only one (1) presenter/groom is allowed per horse. No assistant is allowed in the arena except in the Sections for Cobras (13 and 14) in which one (1) assistant is allowed per cobra.

c) Specific terms for Riders:

- Present his/her horse with a Spanish, English or Vaquera saddle; no other variant is allowed. In such case that the numnah (saddle pad) has a commercial logo, this shall measure a maximum of 20 cm x 20 cm (7.8 x 7.8 inches).
- No aids are allowed, nor are accessories other than those authorized by these Rules and Regulations.
- The options include Andalusian country attire (traje corto campero), hunting attire, dressage competition attire, and other regional garments considered appropriate for equitation authorized by the Organizing Committee and accompanied by proper hat.
- Riding whips are only authorized in the sections for 4-year-old horse and shall not exceed 120 cm in length.
- Authorized bits include:
 - Sections for 4-year-old horses: simple snaffle or vaquero bit; the aid of false reins is allowed, in keeping with the type of presentation.
 - Sections for 5-year-old horses: simple snaffle or snaffle and curb or simple vaquero bit, in keeping with the type of presentation.
- Ear bonnets shall be allowed (protection against insects and/or noise). Said bonnets must be discreet and not cover the horse's eyes. Likewise, bonnets shall not be used to hide ear plugs or any other element or device inside the ear of the horse. Such elements are totally prohibited.

Article 37. The following actions are prohibited and lead to automatic elimination of the rider or presenter:

- a) Abuse horses participating at the competition, not only in the competition arena, but also in the warm-up arena and on the competition grounds.
- b) Disturb the smooth running of a section. Excessive emotional expressions or gestures and voicing artificial sounds, other than the natural voice of the presenter are prohibited, and only the good use of the lash shall be applied. The horse may also be eliminated.
- c) Use a whip or stick when presenting horses in hand, unless said whip/stick is equal to or less than 1.80 meters in length, including the handle. The only exception being for the presentation of mare cobras, in which case the stick or whip may be longer, but with the lash/cracker being collected.

- d) Force a sick, extenuated or lame horse to move.
- e) Enter or exit the arena without being ordered to do so by the Chief Steward.
- f) Perform actions that might distract another horse being presented in the arena, such as moving a horse near or within the arena while awaiting entry to be judged.
- g) Address the Judge/s while within or outside of the arena in a disrespectful or inconsiderate manner.
- h) The use of electronic devices, ear pieces, etc. is completely prohibited.

In the following cases, a warning shall be issued:

- a) Use martingales, breast collars, rings and any other device (such as plastic or cloth tied to the whip, or any other material that could affect the presentation of horses, as well as auxiliary reins, side reins, any type of sliding (draw) reins or balancing reins, nasal strips, etc.), are used. The same holds true with regards to protection or bandages or other elements.
- b) The use of decorations (trimmings) on the horse, including ribbons, bows or flowers, etc. Only in the case of the Functionality Test are standard braided manes and tails allowed.
- c) Use a whip during the functionality test in the Section for 5-year-olds and older.
- d) Touch a horse with a whip while in the arena to correct its placement, except on the lower areas of its limbs, and always when this does not affect the horse's well-being.

If, after being warned, the use of any of the aforementioned materials continues, the Judge may automatically eliminate the horse.

Article 38. In such case that the mandates of the previous article are not met, as well as any other behavior that is disruptive, inconsiderate or animal abuse, the Organizing Committee may agree to eliminate the responsible breeder automatically, and/or his/her staff (riders, presenters, employees) under his/her supervision, at the competition or in any of the sections with the corresponding cancellation of any points earned, and all awards obtained shall be withdrawn. Notwithstanding any disciplinary measures that may be adopted by the Competition Commission in keeping with the provisions of these Rules and Regulations.

TITLE VI - JUDGES

Article 39. The Panel of Judges at Competitions shall be made up of the designated Judges.

Article 40. In such case that there is at least one (1) mare in Sections 7, 9 and 11 requesting to participate in the Functionality Test, said mare shall be judged together with the other horses in her age group by the corresponding Judge/s.

Special Awards shall be exclusively judged by Conformation Judges.

Article 41. Within the judging arena, the Panel of Judges shall have maximum authority with regards to qualifying and the placings. Their decisions, in terms of scores, are not subject to appeal. The rest of their decisions may be appealed in writing before the Superior Appeals Panel.

Article 42. During a test, the Judges shall disqualify horses that are clearly unruly to avoid third-party accidents; the same holds true for horses that exhibit blood on any part of their bodies as well as those that limp, thus hindering their ability to perform their presentation normally. Should this occur, the Judges shall report to the Chief Steward, who shall organize the ordered exit of said horse, which shall be eliminated even if it has already been judged. As a horse that has been eliminated, it shall be awarded the points that correspond towards the Best Breeder or Best Exhibitor Awards.

Article 43. Once the competition has concluded, the Panel of Judges shall sign, in the area designated as competition secretariat, two copies of the corresponding records, showing the results and scores of the horses from each Section and the Special Awards.

The Competition Secretary shall keep the Judges' Score Sheets for the various sections as well as for the Special Awards and any possible ties that might have occurred, along with the discrepancies among the Judges that may have arisen.

The owner of a participating horse, or in his/her absence, the legal representative as that name appears on file with the PRE Stud Book or the ANCCE office, and once duly identified, may request a meeting with the judge/judges for information regarding the score assigned to a given horse, once the competition has concluded, in the presence of the Technical Director and Chief Steward to consult any inquiries regarding this matter. The Organizers shall establish and announce the time when said breeder may meet, but never coinciding with the official Awards Ceremony.

TITLE VII - THE COMPETITION

Article 44. La The Functionality Test shall always be carried out after Sections 8, 10 and 12 have been concluded, and shall be judged by the designated Functionality Judges. In the case of competitions where a specific Functionality Judge has not been appointed, this test shall be judged by the designated Conformation Judge/s. For the Functional Test, the starting order shall follow the order of the bib numbers. For those riders who rider several horses at that test, whenever possible, he/she shall be assigned a place separated by 5 or 6 participants.

The judging shall be performed in keeping with the age of the horses. The 4-year-old age range (Sections 7 and 8) shall score as foreseen in the corresponding score sheet and according to the Functionality Test provided in Appendix VI.

For 5 and 6-year-old horses (Sections 9 and 10) and 7 year-old horses and older (Sections 11 and 12), scores shall be granted in keeping with the corresponding score sheets and with the Functionality Tests provided in Appendix VI.

The Functionality Test shall be mandatory for all horses in Sections 8, 10 and 12. The number of horses performing the test shall be based on the number of horses participating in each of the Sections:

- Sections with up to 15 horses, the first 10 horses shall perform the test.
- Sections with between 16 and 25 horses, the first 12 horses shall perform the test.
- Sections with 26 or more horses, the first 15 horses shall perform the test.

The horse placing first in Sections 8, 10 and 12 for movements may perform the functionality test, although said horse is not obliged to do so.

The mares in Sections 7, 9 and 11 that wish to voluntarily perform the Functionality Test shall inform the Organizing Committee when entering the competitions, so that the Organizing Committee is in a position to include said horses. The score earned in the Functionality Test shall not affect the final score, but it shall be taken into consideration within the classification of the horses in that age range, and therefore, aspire to the win the Special Award at the Competition's Absolute Functionality Champion.

To determine the number of mares that may perform the Functionality Test, the same criteria shall be applied as with stallions.

Article 45. When a qualified horse fails to perform the Functionality Test, whether or not the motivation is justified or due to disqualification, it shall be computed as “Not Finished” and shall keep 75% of its Conformation Score, to then occupy the position that corresponds to that score. Should said horse be entered for the Best Breeder or Best Exhibitor Award, the points corresponding to that position shall be tallied, in keeping with the table provided in Appendix III.

Should non-appearance be due to unjustified causes, said horse shall be eliminated; the corresponding points shall be tallied without prejudice of disciplinary measures that the Competition Commission may adopt according to these present Rules and Regulations.

Any horse that fails to perform the Functionality Test may never aspire to hold the title of Competition Champion or Reserve Champion.

Likewise, a horse participating in Section 8, 10 or 12 that has been eliminated, removed or that was not presented previously for the Conformation Test, may not take part in the Functionality Test. In this case, that horse’s participation shall be considered concluded.

Article 46. In the Functionality test, the Judges shall assess the horse’s natural paces, walk, trot and canter, scoring aspects such as the mechanics, rhythm, easiness, impulsion and execution of good balance.

No penalties shall be given for mistakes made by the rider; however, the rider must perform the specific figures for each test. Should there be a mistake while performing the route, the Judge may stop the participation and indicate how the rider should continue. Three (3) or more mistakes during the route shall be considered technical incompetence and that horse shall be eliminated.

Horses shall demonstrate, as a psychological characteristic of the breed, good handling or submission throughout the test.

The Rider may select the presentation style.

Article 47. The score obtained by stallions for said test accounts for 25% of the total score. The score obtained by mares in the Functionality Test shall not count towards the final score.

Article 48. All of the horses presented at a Competition shall be organized into Sections, according to age groups, as verified on their passports. Ages shall be calculated by calendar years, as of January first (1/1) of the year in course, and shall be distributed as follows:

- Section 3 (2-year-old fillies)
- Section 4 (2- year-old colts)
- Section 5 (3-year-old fillies)
- Section 6 (3-year-old colts)
- Section 7 (4-year-old mares)
- Section 8 (4-year-old stallions)
- Section 9 (5 & 6-year-old mares)
- Section 10 (5 & 6-year-old stallions)
- Section 11 (7+ year-old mares)
- Section 12 (7+ year-old stallions)
- Section 13 (3-mare Cobras)

- Section 14 (5-mare Cobras)

At all Competitions, whatever the category, Sections 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, and 12 shall be held, notwithstanding that any one of them may be declared void due to insufficient participating horses, except in the 3-star and 2-star Competitions where all Sections are mandatory. Sections 13 and 14 may be judged. Only Sections 1, 2, and 15 shall be held at any 1-star Competitions.

The qualification tables found in Appendix IV determine the number of horses that shall be classified in each Section.

Article 49. Prior to entering the arena, the Technical Director and/or Chief Steward shall verify the existence of possible phenotypic alterations. Should proof of an alteration be discovered, said horse shall be eliminated. In such case that a horse has not yet entered in the arena to perform its test, the presenter/groom shall be strongly advised to clean off the affected area as quickly as possible. Should the recommendation not be followed, said horse shall not be allowed to enter the arena and therefore be eliminated.

Article 50. The Chief Steward shall allow the entrance of presenters/grooms and their horses at the time established on the schedule. Presenters shall enter at walk refraining from any trot or canter movements or warm-up exercises which should have been performed in the warm up arena.

Once the horses are in the arena, the Chief Steward shall position them by bib number to one side. If a horse fails to show up, said horse shall be summoned by means of the PA system. After five (5) minutes, should said horse fail to appear, another announcement shall be made. The Chief Steward shall proceed to close the arena two (2) minutes later. Beyond this point, no horse may access even if the preview lap has not yet begun.

After having been called to the arena, any horse that fails to appear immediately shall be eliminated.

Article 51. Once the arena has been closed, the preview lap shall start. Under the Judge's criteria, all of the horses shall proceed to perform, at walk, between one (1) and three (3) laps by bib number.

Once the preview lap has concluded, these situations may occur:

- a) For the benefit of the Competition, the horses shall be placed on one side of the arena following the indications of the Chief Steward.
- b) When the Organizing Committee has an adjacent warm-up arena, horses may leave in an organized manner so that once called by the Chief Steward, they access the judging arena according to their bib number. The horse next in line shall be ready at the entrance of the arena. Under no circumstances shall horses return to their stables while waiting to be summoned to the arena. Both the attitude of horses and presenters shall be the same as if they were in the main arena. The Chief Steward or the Technical Director shall have absolute control over all events taking place within the adjacent arena.

Article 52. Horses shall exit the arena one by one from the closest end to their location. They shall walk down the center line of the arena and once they have reached the end, they shall perform at least three (3) laps at canter and afterwards they shall trot to the other end of the arena, if and when this is possible, along the center line. Upon reaching the end, horse and presenter shall turn around and return to the center of the arena in trot where they halt.

Presenters/grooms shall have a limited amount of time, two (2) minutes and fifteen (15) seconds, to present their horses in movement. After this time, horse and rider shall be summoned to the center of the arena and any movement performed outside of the established time slot shall not be taken into consideration. If in fifteen (15) seconds horse and rider are not in the center of the arena, they shall be eliminated. Should there be an accident or a case of force majeure, the clock shall stop and start again once the incidence has concluded.

While presenting a horse, should it show signs of lameness, resist the presenter/rider, or if there are indications that are contrary to good animal well-being, the presenter may remove the horse from the arena by informing the Chief Steward. That horse shall appear in the computer system as “removed” as well as when calculating the Best Breeder Award.

Likewise, a horse participating in Section 8, 10 or 12 that has been eliminated, removed or that was not presented previously for the Conformation Test, may not take part in the Functionality Test. In this case, that horse’s participation shall be considered concluded.

The presentation of Cobras in Section 13 (3-mare cobra) shall perform a minimal route, showing one length of the arena at walk, and another full length at trot, and execute these exercises freely, based on the criteria of the presenter.

Article 53. Once the horse has stopped in the center of the arena, the Judges shall have a maximum of five (5) minutes to fill out the score sheet. After this time, the judging shall conclude and the Chief Steward shall allow the presenters to leave the center of the arena, to stand with his/her horse in the last place of the line, or exit the arena if the presentations are individual. In the case of an accident or force majeure, the clock shall be stopped and continue once the incident has been overcome.

Article 54. While a horse is being judged in the arena, whether in movement and paused, the rest of the presenters shall ensure their horses remain relaxed and refrain from moving them. Even if they are located at the end of the arena, they shall avoid creating distractions or agitation in the horse being presented.

Article 55. When the last horse has been judged, the auxiliary staff designated by the Organizing Committee shall draft the classification for the entire section. Said classification shall not be altered except due to administrative mistakes. The Chief Steward shall read aloud the first ten (10) classified horses in reverse order and these shall enter the center of the arena to receive their awards.

In case of a subsequent disqualification, the rest of the horses shall automatically move up a place in the final classification of their section. Thus, the new list of winners shall be drafted and announced.

Article 56. In the event of a tie, only the first five (5) places shall go forward to a break said tie; other horses that are tied shall be considered as ex aequo (tied).

When the Panel of Judges includes two or more Judges, the horses affected by a tie shall enter the center of the arena. The judges, individually, shall decide which horse/s is/are the best. The decision shall be reported to the Chief Steward who shall notify the audience. The proclamation shall be decided by majority votes; should the tie persist, the Deciding Vote shall be used. Once the Functionality Test has concluded, to break the tie among the first five (5) horses in Sections 8, 10 and 12, the following parameters shall be taken into account and in this order:

- 1st - Highest score in Movements
- 2nd - Highest score in Conformation
- 3rd - Highest score in Functionality
- 4th - Should the tie persist, the Deciding Vote of the Conformation Judge shall be used.

When there is a single Judge, he/she shall proceed to break the tie to determine the position in the final classification by observing the horses where they are or in the center of the arena or should this not be considered necessary, by consulting the score sheets or personal notes, as deemed appropriate.

Should there be a tie for the Best Movements Award in a given section, and there is more than one Judge, the procedure shall be as already indicated, but always repeating the movements of the affected horses. The proclamation shall be decided by majority votes; should the tie persist, the Deciding Vote shall be used.

When there is a single Judge, and to break a tie to determine the Best Movements of the section, the movements of the affected horses shall be repeated.

Should there be a tie for the Section's Best Functionality Award, the horse with highest total score on the Conformation score sheet, including movements in hand, shall be considered the winner; should the tie persist, the total score for the section shall be taken into consideration. Should the tie persist, the score sheet and personal notes shall be considered, when deemed necessary, to break the tie.

Article 57. The Deciding Vote of Judges has been established when there is a tie:

a) At competitions with two (2) Conformation Judges, each Judge has the deciding vote in the following sections:

- Judge 1 Conformation: sections, 4, 5, 8, 9, 12, 13.
- Judge 2 Conformation: sections, 3, 6, 7, 10, 11, 14.

For Special Awards, the deciding vote shall be cast as laid out below:

a) At competitions with two (2) Conformation Judges:

- Judge 1 Conformation, his/her vote shall decide the following Awards:
 - o Champion of Movement
 - o Reserve Youngstock Champion of Movement
 - o Youngstock Filly Champion
 - o Reserve Youngstock Colt Champion
 - o Reserve Mare Breed Champion
 - o Adult Champion
 - o Functionality Champion
- Judge 2 Conformation, his/her vote shall decide the following Awards:
 - o Youngstock Champion of Movement
 - o Mare Champion of Movement
 - o Reserve Filly Champion
 - o Youngstock Colt Champion
 - o Mare Breed Champion
 - o Reserve Stallion Breed Champion
 - o Reserve Functionality Champion

TITLE VIII - AWARDS

Article 58. Eliminated horses shall be deprived of any award earned up until that moment and shall be granted to the horses holding the next position, if and when this is possible. Should that not be possible, said award shall be considered unclaimed.

Article 59. In each section, at least the following Awards shall be granted:

1. Champion of the Section, gold medal and/or trophy.

2. Reserve Champion of the Section, silver medal and/or trophy.
3. 3rd place in the Section, bronze medal and/or trophy.
4. Award for Best Movement (B.M.).
5. Award for Functionality (M.F.) when appropriate.

At each competition, the rosettes (ribbons) and/or diplomas shall be granted by the Organization Committee together with the Awards. The Organization Committee may grant as many Awards and Honorary Mentions as deemed appropriate.

The Awards for Best Movements in a given section shall be granted to the horse competing in Sections 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, and 12 with the highest score, once the scores for walk, trot and canter have been tallied.

A Functionality Award for sections 7-8, 9-10, and 11-12 have been established for the mare or stallion that obtains the highest score in the Functionality Test, from among the finalists in the sections for the same age group.

Article 60. At all competitions, the following Special Awards shall be offered:

1) BEST BREEDER AWARD: Any breeder seeking the Best Breeder Award shall ensure the following requirements:

- a) All horses presented at the Competition, seeking this Award, shall have been bred by that breeder with his/her breeder code. Nevertheless, this award may be sought by those stud farms which have been divided, whatever the reason may be, although those horses have different breeder codes, if and when those horses have descended from the same family tree or from business groups of that same breeder. In both cases, the horses shall have been transferred to the new stud farm in the year of the division and without intermediate changes.
- b) The horses shall be owned by said breeder.
- c) Present horses in at least four (4) different sections in which a brood mare shall be presented in any of Sections 7, 9 or 11, a stallion in any of Sections 8, 10 or 12, a young mare in either Section 3 or 5, and a young stallion in Sections 4 or 6.

Presenting a Cobra in Section 13 is optional and not a mandatory requirement for this award.

The Best Breeder Award shall be granted to the stud farm that scores the highest mathematical average of the four (4) horses with the highest scores obtained in their section, of all the horses presented by that stud farm.

In those cases in which a breeder participates in more than four (4) sections, the four (4) bibs belonging to different sections and that have the highest score as indicated in this Article shall be taken into consideration. The ANCCE IT app shall automatically select the best scores for the final tally towards the Award.

The scores obtained by each horse shall depend on its place and the section where it participates, based on the table in Appendix III, to which additional points shall be granted towards the Special Awards:

- Mare/Stallion Champion: 5 points
- Colt/Filly Champion: 4 points
- Functionality Champion: 3 points
- Adult Champion of Movement: 3 points
- Youngstock Champion of Movement: 2 points
- Reserve Mare/Stallion Champion: 3 points
- Reserve Colt/Filly Champion: 2 points
- Reserve Champion of Functionality: 2 points
- Reserve Youngstock Champion of Movement: 1 point

The horse earning a Special Award shall continue to be considered a single horse, when the division is made. Those horses which, having been entered and accepted for this Award and that failed to appear in their Section or that were disqualified, whatever the reason may be, shall tally points based on the table in Appendix III.

Only in such case that there is a single contestant seeking the Best Breeder Award, said contestant shall attain a total of at least twelve (12) points to earn this Award. Should this not be the case, said award shall be considered void.

Section 13 is included in the mathematical average calculation but as voluntary participation; therefore, the final tally includes the direct points established in Appendix III added to the stud farm's total. The breeder may present as many Cobras as deemed appropriate, but only the Cobra with the highest score shall be tallied up with the points earned towards the Best Breeder Award. The same holds true for any other Sections included in the tally.

In the event of a tie, this shall be resolved in favor of the Stud Farm that has:

1. Placed highest in the Section for 3-mare Cobras (Section 13).
2. Presented the highest number of horses for the Best Breeder Award.
3. Presented a mare in the Functionality Test.
4. Presented the highest number of stallions in the various Sections.
5. Presented the highest number of mares in the various Sections.

2) RESERVE BEST BREEDER AWARD: The Reserve Best Breeder Award shall be granted to the stud farm that has earned the second-best score from among the participating stud farms seeking this award.

3) BEST EXHIBITOR AWARD: The Best Exhibitor Award may be sought after by those breeders who enter horses owned by that Stud Farm, although all or some of the horses entered were bred under another breeder code.

To seek this Award, the participating breeder shall enter horses in at least five (5) different sections, of which it is mandatory that at least one broodmare be presented in any of Sections 7, 9 or 11, as well as a stallion in any of Sections 8, 10 or 12, a young mare in Section 3 or 5, a young stallion in Section 4 or 6 and another horse, other than any of the previously mentioned.

Entering a Cobra in Section 13 is voluntary, and not an essential requirement to earn this award.

The Best Exhibitor Award shall be granted to the stud farm that scores the highest mathematical average of the five (5) horses with the highest scores obtained in their section, from among all the horses presented by that stud farm.

Only in such case that there is a single contestant seeking the Best Exhibitor Award, said contestant shall attain a total of at least twelve (12) points to earn this Award. Should this not be the case, said award shall be considered void.

In those cases in which a breeder participates in more than five (5) sections, the five best from the different sections will be taken into consideration as indicated in Section C of this Article. The ANCCCE IT app shall automatically select the best scores for the final tally towards the Award.

The scores obtained by each horse shall depend on its place and the section where it participates, based on the table in Appendix III, to which additional points shall be granted towards the Special Awards:

- Mare/Stallion Champion: 5 points
- Colt/Filly Champion: 4 points

- Functionality Champion: 3 points
- Adult Champion of Movement: 3 points
- Youngstock Champion of Movement: 2 points
- Reserve Mare/Stallion Champion: 3 points
- Reserve Colt/Filly Champion: 2 points
- Reserve Champion of Functionality: 2 points
- Reserve Youngstock Champion of Movement: 1 point

The horse earning a Special Award shall continue to be considered a single horse, when the division is made. Those horses which, having been entered and accepted for this Award and that failed to appear in their Section or that were disqualified, whatever the reason may be, shall tally points based on the table in Appendix III.

Section 13 may be included in the calculation, but on a voluntary bases; therefore, the direct points as established in Appendix III are added to the total earned by the stud farm after having applied the mathematical average. A breeder may enter as many Cobras as deemed appropriate, but only the best classified shall be taken into consideration when tallying the points for the Best Breeder Award, as is the case with any other computable section.

In the event of a tie, the same criteria used for the Best Breeder Award shall be applied.

4) STALLION CHAMPION AND RESERVE STALLION CHAMPION: This winner shall be chosen from among those placing 1st and 2nd in Sections 8, 10 and 12, and as indicated below:

- This test shall be scored by all of the Conformation Judges, who shall evaluate the horses standing still. Whenever there are two panels of Judges, those in the championship must perform the movements performed in their Section.
- The horse in first place from each of the Sections indicated shall stand in the center of the arena. Those placed second shall remain at one end of the arena.
- The judges shall then proceed to compare the three (3) horses that placed first in their corresponding Sections.
- Each Judge shall award three (3) points to the horse he/she considers to be the best, two (2) points to the second best and one (1) to the third.
- The Chief Steward shall tally the points given by each of the judges. The Champion shall be the horse with the highest number of points.
- Subsequently, the Champion Stallion shall go to one end of the arena; his place shall be occupied by the horse that placed second in the Section. The Reserve Champion shall then be chosen by comparing him with the two other horses that were already in the arena, as indicated above.
- In the event of a tie, the Judges shall vote once again, only scoring the two tied horses, giving two (2) points to the horse considered the best and one (1) point to the second.
- If there continues to be a tie, the deciding vote shall be used.

5) MARE CHAMPION and RESERVE MARE CHAMPION: The Mare and Reserve Champion shall be chosen from among those placed 1st and 2nd in Sections 7, 9 and 11. These Champions shall be elected using the same procedures established for the Stallion Champion and Reserve Stallion Champion.

6) COLT CHAMPION and RESERVE COLT CHAMPION: This Award has been established for the two (2) horses in Sections 4 and 6 with the highest classification. From among these, the Colt Champion and Reserve Colt Champion shall be chosen, following the same procedure used for the Stallion and Reserve Stallion Champion.

7) FILLY CHAMPION and RESERVE FILLY CHAMPION: This Award has been established for two (2) horses placing first in Sections 3 and 5, from which the Filly Champion and Reserve shall be decided. The procedure shall be identical to that established for the Competition Stallion and Reserve Champion.

8) ABSOLUTE FUNCTIONALITY CHAMPION AND RESERVE FUNCTIONALITY CHAMPION: The Functionality Champion Award shall be granted automatically to the horse that has obtained the highest score when performing this test, and from among all of the participants in the sections for stallions and mares, based on the age groups (Sections 7-8, 9-10, and 11-12). Likewise, the Reserve Functionality Champion shall be the horse that obtains the second highest score.

In the event of a tie, the winner shall be for the horse with the highest score on the Conformation score sheet, including movements in-hand. Should the tie persist, the winner shall be the horse with the best score for in-hand movements and as a third option, the vote among the Judges. If the tie still persists, the deciding vote shall be used.

9) YOUNGSTOCK and ADULT CHAMPION OF MOVEMENT AWARDS: Awards have been established for Best Movements, based on the age of the horses: Youngstock and Adults. In both cases, the horses shall perform double the laps when being judged in their section.

- Youngstock Champion and Reserve Youngstock Champion of Movement: Horses that were the winners as Best Movements in each of the Sections 3, 4, 5 and 6 may compete. These Champions shall compete against each other for the Youngstock Champion of Movement Award. Each Judge shall score the horse granting 3, 2 or 1 point/s, to the horses which in his/her opinion, has performed the best paces. The horse earning the most points shall be considered the Youngstock Champion of Movement (abbreviated as YCM) and the second best will be considered Reserve Youngstock Champion of Movement (abbreviated as RYCM). In the case of a tie, the horses involved shall perform a repeat itinerary, the same as performed initially, and the Judges shall once again vote the best among those involved in the tie. Should the tie persist, the deciding vote shall be used.
- Adult Stallion Champion of Movement: Horses that earned the title as Best Movements in each of Sections 8, 10, and 12 may compete for this award. These Champions shall compete against each other, by comparison, for the Adult Stallion Champion of Movement Award in hand, using a points system. Each Judge shall score the horse granting 3, 2 or 1 point/s, to the horses which, in his/her opinion, have performed the best paces. The horse earning the most points shall be considered the winner. In the case of a tie, the horses involved shall perform a repeat itinerary, the same as performed initially, and the Judges shall once again vote the best among those involved in the tie. Should the tie persist, the deciding vote shall be used.
- Adult Mare Champion of Movement: Horses that were Champions of Movement in each of Sections 7, 9, and 11 may compete for this award. These Champions shall compete against each other, by comparison, for the Adult Mare Champion of Movement Award in hand, using a points system. Each Judge shall score the horse granting 3, 2 or 1 point/s, to the horses which, in his/her opinion, have performed the best paces. The horse earning the most points shall be considered the winner. In the case of a tie, the horses involved shall perform a repeat itinerary, the same as performed initially, and the Judges shall once again vote the best among those involved in the tie. Should the tie persist, the deciding vote shall be used.

Article 61. All horses qualifying for the Special Awards must appear in the arena to be judged. In the event that a winning horse fails to appear to be judged for any of the Special Awards—independently of the reason—it shall be disqualified, thusly leading to the loss of any and all acquired rights and said horse shall be considered serious misconduct, when not justified. If this were the case of the first-place winner, the second-place winner shall take that horse's place and shall be judged with the other horses in first place. Should the no-show horse have qualified second in its Section or be the horse with Best Movements, substitution shall not be allowed.

Article 62. The Organizing Committee shall announce the schedule and location of the Awards Ceremony on the Competition Program. Attendance is mandatory for any horse earning an award.

In the event that a winning horse fails to appear to receive its Award, a written authorization from the competition veterinarian, the owner shall lose that Award and there shall be no winner. Said owner runs the risk of losing the rest of the Awards earned by his/her participating horses at that Competition, as established by the Organizing Committee, without prejudice of disciplinary measures that may be adopted by the Competition Commission as set out in the present Rules and Regulations.

TITLE IX - DISCIPLINARY CODE

CHAPTER I - DISCIPLINARY PROCEDURES

Article 63. The Competition Commission is the competent body to launch, instruct and sentence disciplinary procedures against judges who fail to comply with the mandates in the Rules & Regulations.

Article 64. All Organizing Committees fall under the jurisdiction of this disciplinary body; the same holds true for their staff, participating breeders, whether or not they are members of ANCCE, and likewise applicable to their representatives, relatives and staff, including riders, presenters and grooms.

Breeders shall be considered responsible for misconduct perpetrated by their person or their representatives, relatives or staff. The Organizing Committees shall be considered responsible for misconduct perpetrated by their person and/or members and staff.

Article 65. Disciplinary procedures shall be launched ex officio or at the request of a party by means of an official complaint report formulated before the Competition Commission.

The instructor of the process shall be a person who is freely designated by the Competition Commission.

The Competition Commission shall proceed to analyze the events prior to initiating disciplinary proceedings; it may dismiss the claim should it consider that the events do not constitute misconduct. This decision shall be reported to the claimant with no further appeal being allowed.

Article 66. The Competition Commission shall initiate disciplinary proceedings by means of a joint agreement that identifies the alleged perpetrator; an Instructor shall be appointed. The facts leading to said initiation shall be indicated together with the possible type of misconduct and the corresponding sentence. The right to formulate allegations shall also be indicated, as well as the hearing before the competent body in the procedure with the corresponding timeline. The parties are warned that should allegations not be presented within the established timeline, the corresponding Proposed Sentence shall be issued. Likewise, the tentative measures agreed to by the Instructor shall be implemented.

The interested party shall be informed regarding the disciplinary process agreement and the Instructor shall be informed about any and all actions related to the process.

In the case of individual breeders, corporate bodies or legally constituted corporations, valid communications shall be considered those performed between the individual person who appears as the stud farm representative on file at ANCCCE or on the actual competition entry. In the case of the Organizing Committee, it will be the person whose name appears at the contact on the Official PRE Calendar.

Any means that allows the reception of communiqués to be verified may be used. Failure to accept or the return of notifications sent to the home of, data and/or address provided or that appears in ANCCCE files shall be considered as notified/delivered.

Article 67. Once the disciplinary process begins, the Competition Commission may agree to impose temporary disciplinary measures as deemed necessary to guarantee the effectiveness of the resolution that may be dictated, the smooth running of the actual process, avoid continued misconduct and safeguard third party or ANCCCE interests.

Article 68. The interested party may formulate allegations and present documents or information and, as may be the case, propose evidence within ten (10) business days as of the reception of the communiqué indicating the commencement of the process. In his/her statement, he/she shall indicate an email address for further notifications, as well as contact information of all witnesses proposed.

Once the Instructor receives allegations from the interested party, he/she, as would be the case, shall review the evidence deemed appropriate, and he/she may also request further evidence and request reports considered necessary to clarify all facts and events. The Instructor may reject evidence when, in his/her opinion, said evidence fails to clarify the facts and/or events being studied, or when said evidence is difficult or impossible to prove.

The timespan to present evidence shall be fifteen (15) business days, notwithstanding that the Instructor, due to justified cause, may request that said period of time be expanded up to ten (10) additional days.

Article 69. Once the investigation has concluded, the Instructor may formulate a Resolution Proposal, which shall establish and explain the facts and events upon which the legal status is based, the assessment of all evidence, and shall determine, based on the Rules, the misconduct perpetrated, the person who is responsible and the proposed sentence. Likewise, the decision to maintain the tentatively agreed to measures shall also be specified.

The interested party shall be notified regarding the Resolution Proposal, who in turn, shall have ten (10) business days, as of the date he/she receives the communiqué, to formulate allegations and present any documents or reports deemed appropriate.

Article 70. The Competition Commission shall dictate the Resolution in which said Commission shall respond to all questions presented and derived from the disciplinary file; the evidence upon which said Commission has based its decision shall be assessed, the facts and events stated, the misconduct perpetrated and the sentence imposed.

No other facts or events, other than those presented throughout the course of the process, shall be accepted, independently of the legal assessment. Should the misconduct or the disciplinary action be considered more serious than what was determined in the Resolution Proposal, the interested party shall be notified so that he/she may present any and all allegations deemed necessary within ten (10) business days.

The Competition Commission shall inform the interested party regarding the Resolution, stating any appeal that he/she is eligible to present against said Resolution and the corresponding timeline for presentation.

Article 71. The Resolution may be appealed before the ANCCCE Executive Committee within fifteen (15) business days, as of the reception and knowledge of the sentence. Should no appeal be presented, the sentence shall be considered final.

The Executive Committee shall decide about the appeal within ten (10) business days, informing the interested party, which puts an end to the disciplinary route, with the Resolution then being executive, which shall be considered final as of its notification.

Article 72. The duration of the disciplinary process shall not surpass five (5) months as of the date on the initiation agreement.

CHAPTER II - MISCONDUCT AND DISCIPLINARY ACTIONS

Article 73. The following aspects are considered Minor Misconduct:

- a) Behave in public in an inappropriate manner at competitions or championships.
- b) Show slight lack of consideration towards the Judges, members of the Organizing Committee, participants or audience during a competition.
- c) Show a passive attitude when complying with orders and instructions received from Judges and members of the Organizing Committee while performing their duties.
- d) Failure on behalf of the Organizing Committee to meet their economic obligations affecting contracted personnel, judges or ANCCE for a period longer than thirty (30) days and less than sixty (60) days.
- e) Be inconsiderate to a groom/handler or rider while in the arena.
- f) Slight breach of compliance on behalf of the Organizing Committee with their formal and administrative obligations.

Article 74. The following aspects are considered Serious Misconduct:

Organizing Committee and members or staff under its supervision:

- a) Failure to meet economic obligations with contracted staff for the smooth running of the competition and/or participants for a period of more than sixty (60) days and less than one hundred and eighty (180) days.
- b) Failure to provide the Competition Department with information regarding essential aspects relative to the competition, including any possible conflicts of interests among the judges.
- c) Show lack of respect or make inappropriate comments about anyone who intervenes in the competition.
- d) Suspend or modify the dates of a competition without just cause.
- e) Non-compliance with standard rules when this does not lead to the halting or suspension of a competition, but does hinder the event or the tasks of those actively involved in said event.
- f) Perpetrate a minor fault after having been punished previously for another minor fault.

Breeders, Riders and Presenters/Grooms:

- a) Show lack of respect to or make improper comments against Judges, members of the Organizing Committee, breeders or other participants, and the general audience. Such acts could be considered those expressed in mass media or social networks before, during and after the actual Competition.
- b) Try to intimidate judges and members of the Organizing Committee.
- c) Alter the normal development of a section due to negligent behavior or willful misconduct.
- d) Failure to present a horse entered in a section or a test without any previous warning to the Organizing Committee and without any justified cause.
- e) Cruelty towards a horse.
- f) Failure to comply with any financial obligation with the Organizing Committee.
- g) Failure to present a horse at Award Ceremony, where appropriate, without any sufficient justification and authorization by the official competition veterinarian.
- h) Change the appearance of a horse with the intention of confusing or diminishing its defects.
- i) The use of devices and manners during the presentation that are specifically prohibited.
- j) That a horse has positive results for the so-called "controlled" substances on the anti-doping list.
- k) Perpetrate a minor fault having been punished previously for another minor fault.

- l) Any other breach of rules not specifically listed in this article, and that may be considered serious by the Competition Commission.

Article 75. The following aspects are considered Severe Misconduct:

Organizing Committee and members or staff under its supervision:

- a) El Failure to meet financial obligations regarding contracted staff for a competition and/or participants for a period longer than 180 days.
- b) Non-compliance with their formal obligations when this involves halting or suspending a competition.
- c) Coerce judges with the aim of predetermining competition results.
- d) Accept the participation in a competition of horses, stud farms, riders or presenters/grooms who are punished or that is subject to some type of restriction.
- e) Aggressions, threats, coercion and injurious statements made or attitudes shown in public towards any active participant in the competition.
- f) Failure to perform Anti-Doping tests on the horses when required by the Competition Commission.
- g) Alter the judges' score sheets.
- h) Commit serious misconduct after having been punished previously for another event of serious misconduct.

Breeders, Riders and Presenters:

- a) Breach of imposed disciplinary measures.
- b) Actions carried out to predetermine the results of a test or competition, by means of cash, intimidation or simple agreements.
- c) Withdraw horses that had already entered onto the competition grounds without sufficient justification.
- d) Remove horses from the competition premises without express consent from the Organizing Committee.
- e) Threats, coercion and serious insults or aggressions to any judge, member of the Organizing Committee, breeder, rider, presenter/groom or the audience taking part in the competition.
- f) Public statements that encourage violence.
- g) Severe cruelty towards horses.
- h) Concealing any conflict of interests, even if it has not been declared by the judge.
- i) Refuse to allow biological samples to be taken from horses in the breeder's name and that have been allowed entry to the venue for the corresponding substance abuse tests to be carried out.
- j) When a horse has a positive result for "banned" substances in the abuse substance test.
- k) Commit serious misconduct after having been punished previously for serious misconduct.
- l) All those aspects that are not contained specifically in these Rules and Regulations that could be considered severe by the Competition Commission.

Article 76. Disciplinary action for minor misconduct shall be a written reprimand, and could be limited to no further process than a hearing with the interested party, with a prior informative summary.

Article 77. The following disciplinary actions shall be taken in the light of Serous Misconduct:

- a) Temporary prohibition for the offending breeder, and as may be the case, its representative or personnel in charge, of up to one (1) year to attend and/or participate in competitions. This prohibition could be extended, for the same time period, to the horse or horses owned by said stud farm entered in the Competition where the misconduct took place, including when these no longer belong to said stud farm.

- b) Loss of scores for the horses entered, and the awards they might have earned during a competition.
- c) Prohibition to organize PRE Conformation-Functional Competitions for a period of one (1) year.
- d) Prohibition to provide services as a member of the Organizing Committee or its hired personnel for up to one (1) year.
- e) Suspend a horse for up to one (1) year from participating in competitions, including the World PRE Championship Final, even if said horse has already qualified, independently of who its owner may be.

Article 78. In the case of Severe Misconduct, the following disciplinary actions shall be imposed:

- a) Temporary ineligibility of a breeder, and as may be the case, his/her representative or the person holding that post, for a period ranging from one (1) year and one (1) day up to three (3) years to participate in competitions; this could lead to permanent prohibition to participate in competitions. This ineligibility may be applicable throughout the duration of the sentence—except in the case of permanent ineligibility—to the horse or horses entered in the competition owned by a breeder who is guilty of misconduct, even when said horses are no longer owned by said breeder.
- b) Loss of scores for all horses entered and any awards that may have been obtained by those horses throughout the course of the competition.
- c) Ineligible to hold PRE Conformation-Functional Competitions for a period ranging from one (1) year and one (1) day up to three (3) years or permanently.
- d) Ineligible to provide services as a member of an Organizing Committee or contracted staff for a period of one (1) year and one (1) day or a maximum of three (3) years.
- e) Suspension for up to three (3) years for that horse to participate in any competition, including the World PRE Championship Final, even when said horse has qualified, independently of who its owner may be at that time.

Article 79. The statute of limitation for minor misconduct is one (1) month; for serious misconduct it is six (6) months, and for severe misconduct it is eighteen (18) months.

The statute of limitation shall begin as of the enactment of the misconduct.

The statute of limitation shall be interrupted as of the notification date that disciplinary procedures have been launched.

Article 80. The degree to which punishments are applied shall take into consideration the concurrence of circumstances that modify the responsibility of the interested party, who, in the opinion of the Competition Commission may enter into play with the facts, including the following, in addition to those general circumstances indicated by the law:

- a) Prevalence of the post held within the Association.
- b) Spontaneous repentance.
- c) Having faced sufficient provocation.

Article 81. The responsibility of the sentenced party shall conclude:

- a) Once the punishment has been completed.
- b) With the total or partial lifting of the punishment, as agreed to by the Executive Committee and the Competition Commission, should there be founded motivation that justifies such an action.

Article 82. The Competition Commission shall have a register of all disciplinary actions imposed to have records and a tally of all disciplinary actions fulfilled.

Warnings or reprimands shall be considered cancelled after six (6) months, as of the date the sentence is final, except in those cases in which another disciplinary procedure is launched against the party with the corresponding disciplinary action. The list of remaining disciplinary actions shall be cancelled within three (3) months as of the date when the responsibility concluded or stopped.

FINAL DISPOSITION

First. The ANCCE Executive Committee may, at any time and in keeping with the technical criteria of the Competition Department and/or due to reasons of health regulations, modify the conditions to classify for the World Championship.

Second. These current Rules and Regulations shall be applied directly and immediately as of the day they are officially published on the ANCCE web site, although the Competition Commission may extend the deadline for the presentation requesting the inclusion on the Official PRE Competition Calendar and the deadline for the publication of said Calendar, given the date of publication of these current Rules and Regulations.

Third. The Qualification System concludes on Sunday, the 18th of October of 2026.

APPENDIX IV SICAB QUALIFICATION SYSTEM

To participate in the World Championship, all horses must first classify by participating in any of the qualifier competitions held for said Championship Final. Each horse may participate in as many qualifier competitions as deemed appropriate, but only the two (2) best results shall be taken into consideration.

There are two (2) different types of competitions. These are the national competitions (held in Spain) and those held abroad (International). In terms of score points and positions, the classifications for both types are identical.

The points obtained, depending on the participation in each competition, shall be assigned a score based on the classification obtained by the horse with the most points, in such case that it earns any one of the Special Awards and/or the award for Best Movements or Best Functionality in its section. In each case, the coefficient established according to the competition category shall be applied.

For example: Classification points (x competition category coefficient) + Award points obtained (x competition category coefficient)

Classification Points Table:

CLASSIFICATION POINTS
	1-star (1 coeff.)	2-star (2 coeff.)	3-star (3 coeff.)
1st	10	20	30
2nd	9	18	27
3rd	8	16	24
4th	7	14	21
5th	6	12	18
6th	5	10	15
7th	4	8	12
8th	3	6	9
9th	2	4	6
10th	1	2	3

Special Awards Points Table:

POINTS FOR SPECIAL AWARDS
	1-star (1 coeff.)	2-star (2 coeff.)	3-star (3 coeff.)
BEST MOVEMENTS IN A SECTION	1	2	3
BEST FUNCTIONALITY (SECTIONS 8, 10 & 12)	1	2	3
SPECIAL AWARD FOR RESERVE CHAMPION (all reserve champions)	2	4	6
SPECIAL AWARD FOR CHAMPION (all champions)	4	8	12

In the case of National Competitions, the first twenty-five (25) horses that have accumulated the highest number of points in the qualification system shall obtain a place in each of the sections established for the World Championship. In the case of those stud farms with several horses that have qualified in the same section, only two (2) horses per section may participate at the SICAB Final. These horses shall be chosen by the stud farm owner.

For International competitions, the first five (5) horses that have accumulated the highest number of points in the qualification system shall obtain a place in each of the sections established for the World Championship. In the case of those stud farms with several horses that have qualified in the same section, only one (1) horse per section may participate at the SICAB Final. These horses shall be chosen by the stud farm owner.

In the case of a tie at the cut off, those horses affected by this shall qualify directly.

VACANCIES AND APPLICATION OF RANK SHIFTING: should a qualified horse fail to formalize its entry for the World Championship on time as established by the rules, it shall lose its classification as a horse qualified for said event. In that case, the rank shall shift following the conditions indicated below:

- Rank shifting shall be established by taking into consideration the total number of the two classifications (national + international) as a single calculation.
- Vacancies shall not be covered when the number of qualified horses, and once those failing to enter have been subtracted, are fewer or equal to twenty-five (25).
- Should there be fewer than twenty-five (25) horses, a cut-off shall be used. If there were a tie among horses, and this number was greater than the vacancies, all of the horses that have tied for that place shall attend.

Sections 13 and 14 need no prior qualification.

The Qualification System concludes on Sunday, the 18th of October of 2026.

ENDIX VII - ANTI-DOPING

For those Organizing Committees wishing to take anti-doping tests at their venues, the RULES FOR THE APPLICATION OF CONTROLLED SUBSTANCES, as published on the ANCCE web site, shall be applicable.

APPENDIX VIII - CODE OF CONDUCT

ANCCE recommends that all those taking part in competitions included on the official PRE Competition Calendar to comply with the current code of conduct and accept that the horse's well-being is of utmost importance at all times and shall never be subject to competitive or commercial influence.

1. The well-being of horses is an absolute priority at all times, whether during preparation or training.

- a) Proper handling: stabling, nutrition and training must coincide with proper handling of the horse and shall not compromise its well-being. Anything causing physical or mental suffering, whether within the limits of or outside the competition venue, shall not be tolerated.
- b) Training methods: Training shall be in keeping with the horse's physical capacity and degree of maturity. Horses shall not be submitted to abusive training that instills fear or that fails to provide proper preparation.
- c) Shoeing and tack: Having high quality hoof care and shoeing is essential. Tack shall be designed and placed in a way that avoids all risk of pain or injury.
- d) Transportation: During transport, horses shall be protected from injuries and other health risks. Vehicles must be safe and properly ventilated as well as being correctly maintained, regularly disinfected and driven by competent personnel. Handlers must be duly trained/certified for the task at hand.
- e) Transit: Travel must be carefully planned to allow time for horses to rest and have access to food and water.

2. Both horses and participants must be prepared, be competent and healthy before being allowed to compete.

- a) Adequate physical fitness, skills and ability.
- b) Be in good health.

3. Competitions shall not compromise horses' well-being.

- a) Competitions must be designed to take into consideration the safety of horses and their correct maintenance.
- b) Extreme weather conditions: Ensure that extreme weather conditions do not compromise horses' well-being and/or safety.

4. Every effort shall be made to ensure that all horses receive proper attention and care after the competition and be treated in a humane manner.

- a) Veterinarian care: Veterinarians shall always be available at competitions. If a horse is injured or exhausted, the veterinarian must assess the horse's state of health.

- b) Veterinarian Hospitals: When necessary, the horse shall be picked up and transported by ambulance to a veterinarian hospital for additional assessment and treatment. Injured horses shall receive treatment prior to transportation.
 - c) Injuries at competitions. Injuries at competitions shall be kept to a minimum. The state and conditions of the ground coverage, competition frequency and other hazards shall be meticulously examined to minimize possible injuries.
 - d) Euthanasia: In the event extreme injury in which a horse must be sacrificed, the procedure shall be performed by a veterinarian, as soon as possible, with the sole purpose of minimizing the animal's suffering.
 - e) Retirement: All efforts shall be made to ensure proper treatment of retired competition horses.
